

That's the spirit

Mid-mod is having another moment – and the new Spiritland restaurant-bar in the Royal Festival Hall is a prime example. Want to get the look? Clare Vooght has some stylish suggestions

← Brown cork down

A 100-percent natural way to top off your turntable. Spiritland slipmat, £18. www.spiritland.com.

White lightening →

This sculptural lamp lets you go with the glow. Note white glass and brass table lamp, £200. www.trouva.com.

↑ Rave on, rattan

Create a '70s vibe with this mango-wood-and-rattan doozy. Raphia sideboard, £599. www.swooneditions.com.

Gold rush ↓

Awesome audio – handmade in musical-genre-inventing Detroit. Rose gold Runwell turntable, £2,000. www.shinola.co.uk.

↑ Blue note

Turntable-ready with a range of inputs from analogue to Bluetooth – it sounds great, too. Klipsch The Three speaker, £445. www.henleyaudio.co.uk.

← Red dwarf

A subtler way to channel those 'Twin Peaks'-esque red velvet drapes. Velvet and metal stool, £75. www.trouva.com.

← Warm leatherette

Nail one of Spiritland's banging dishes and serve it up on this neat little dining set. Nomad table and chairs, £249.99. www.argos.co.uk.

When life moves, make your rightmove